

SRPRIZE LUNCHEON

MRS. CHARLES M. TURCK COM-PLIMENTED BY LADIES OF SHAKESPEARE SECTION.

One of the bright spots on the social horizon of recent days was the surprise luncheon given Mrs. C. M. Turck of No. 521 North Glendale avenue, Tropic, Monday, by the ladies of the art and travel section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club of Glendale, of which Mrs. Turck is curator.

Returning from a shopping expedition planned by her husband, who was in the secret, Mrs. Turck found her home in possession of a score or more of ladies, busily at work preparing a sumptuous repast, under the very capable direction of Mrs. Harry Greenwalt, who distinguished herself as mistress of ceremonies. The tables were laid under one of the large pepper trees in the spacious gardens, and a patriotic color scheme was carried out. The favors were dainty bouquets of red, white and blue flowers, tied with ribbon of the same color. Mrs. Menzo Williams acted as toastmistress, and during the course of the luncheon much merriment was occasioned by the bright toasts given by Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, Mrs. William Ramsey, Mrs. J. Glenwood Jones, Miss Eulia Richardson, Mrs. E. B. Weirick, Mrs. Harry S. Duffield and Mrs. Harry Greenwalt, the general spirit of which is indicated by the following, contributed by Mrs. Duffield, an imaginary trip to Rome and Florence, Italy, being described:

Leaving fair Naples' sunny shore,
We journeyed on in search of lore.
Ere long we sighted St. Peter's dome,
And soon we found ourselves in Rome.

Ascending her seven hills to rest,
We all sat down on the topmost crest;
Whilst comfortably ensconced there,
A cry rang out on the ambient air—
"Great Caesar's ghost!" was what was said.

At the sound the apparition fled.
Afrighted, Mrs. Greenwalt
Turned a double somersault,
Landing in the Vatican.
Right at the feet of a holy man.
Meditating there the while;
Saluting him with bow and smile.
She courteously expressed the hope
That all be allowed to greet the pope.

We having followed after;
First in tears and then in laughter.
The pious man of gracious mien
Beckoned us to walk within;
And we were welcomed with acclaim.
As we into his august presence came.
When Mrs. Jones—the merry wag—
Had pinned on His Holiness an American flag.

We hurried out, the audience o'er—
The city further to explore.
And really, friends, it was some work

To keep up with our good guide, Turck.
Who took us here, and took us there,
Regardless of the wear and tear
On bulging brain and frazzled sole—
Mind bent only on her goal.

To gaze upon a scene sublime,
To highest heaven she would climb:
Or to the lowly marts she'd go,
With each and everyone in tow.
After some dozen days and nights
Of dwelling thus on Olympian heights.

(Speaking mythologically, Or mythically, as the case may be.)
Radiant Florence our attention claimed;

A city widely and justly famed
For paintings and statuary grand.
And the finest mosaics in the land.
There, mid scenes of great delight,
Fragrant, joyous and bright,
My descriptive story ends,
But the party onward wends.

Mrs. Turck responded eloquently and with much feeling.

During the afternoon Mrs. Carl Johnson, Mrs. William Herman West, Miss Williams and little Florence Rattray rendered charming vocal solos, and Misses Doris Packer, Shirley Chase and Lois Nordaine delighted with recitations and dancing.

As a memento of the occasion Mrs. Turck was presented with a handsomely bound autograph album inscribed with the names of those present.

The event marks the close of the section's meetings for the year. Covers were laid for Mmes. E. B. Weirick, Theodore Pyle, A. D. McCoy, R. A. Chase, W. H. West, William Ramsey, T. F. Pierce, Frank Hester, J. R. White, Harry Duffield, Carl Johnson, Burt Roberts, J. Glenwood Jones, C. E. Harlan, H. E. Bartlett, Harry Greenwalt, J. P. Alexander, A. H. De Gaston, Harriet M. White, Stephen C. Packer, Roger H. Brown, John Milton, Andrew C. Findlay, H. L. Clotworthy, J. W. Usilton, Henry Braun, Scott W. Johnson, W. W. McElroy, H. H. Faries, Ella Richardson, Ada L. Squier, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Turck, Mr. and Mrs. Menzo Williams, Miss Myrtle Pulliam, Miss Eulia Richardson and Miss Viola Sayre.

HOME WEDDING

MISS LOIS SPICKERMAN AND RILEY C. PROCTOR UNITED
JUNE 12.

About seventy-five friends assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Spickerman Tuesday evening to witness the marriage of their only daughter, Miss Lois Maude, to Mr. Riley C. Proctor. The home was festive with many blossoms and presented a charming picture, appropriate for so important an event.

In the parlor and living-room a color scheme of pink and white was carried out. Myriads of carnations were used with strands of asparagus plumosis while the den was a bower of Shasta daisies.

At 8 o'clock Mrs. Marion Webb, with Helen Wright as accompanist, and Mr. William Bode playing a violin obligato, sang very sweetly, "Calm as the Night." Mrs. L. E. Wilbur, accompanied by Mr. Bode on the violin, began playing the ever popular Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" and the bridal party made their appearance. First came the bridesmaid, Miss Lilla D. McConnell, gowned in blue chiffon and carrying a huge arm bouquet of sweet peas. She was followed by the two little flower girls, Misses Madeline Noyse and Leone Rockhold, gowned in white, with perky pink hair bows. Lastly came the bride with her father. She was charmingly arrayed in a beautiful gown of white silk taffeta and net over silk, trimmed in seed pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of brides' roses and lilies of the valley and a bridal veil caught up with orange blossoms completed the picture of a lovely bride.

In one corner of the living-room a background and canopy of asparagus plumosis studded with carnations had been arranged and here, under a large wedding bell made of these same blossoms, the bridal party met the groom, attended by his brother, Mr. Ralph Proctor, as best man, and the officiating minister, Rev. B. Dudley Snudden, pastor of the First Methodist Church, in which both bride and groom are devoted workers. Rev. Snudden spoke the solemn words that made the two one and just as he pronounced them husband and wife a shower of rose petals was released from the wedding bell under which the happy pair were standing.

While the assembled guests were showering congratulations upon Mr. and Mrs. Proctor, Mrs. Wilbur and Mr. Bode rendered some beautiful selections. A wedding repast was served and the guests inspected the many beautiful gifts that had been bestowed upon the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Proctor left Tuesday night on a honeymoon trip of two weeks. They have taken an apartment on Hawthorne street where they will be at home to their friends on their return. This young couple have the best wishes of hundreds of friends in Glendale where they have lived for years and are well known.

Mr. Proctor is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Proctor, 135 East Third street. He has been a book-keeper for the First National Bank for several years.

QUIRRINO VERDUGO.

Quirrino Verdugo passed away at the County Hospital Monday, June 11, after an extended illness of tuberculosis. He was 36 years, 11 months and 7 days old. The deceased was born in San Bernardino, but had lived in this valley practically all his life, being a descendant of the Verdugo family that formerly owned the San Rafael Rancho, which included the site of Glendale and the country surrounding. Regino Verdugo and J. B. Verdugo of Glendale are brothers of the deceased.

The remains are at the Pulliam Undertaking parlors awaiting the completion of funeral arrangements. Funeral services will be held at San Gabriel and interment will be in the cemetery there.

OUT OF THE TRENCHES

BIBLE CLASSES OF METHODIST CHURCHES CALLED TO THE COLORS.

More than 100 churches with over 200 adult Bible classes with 2000 partially trained recruits will make a hard drive on all fronts at the First Methodist Church, Los Angeles, Saturday and Sunday, June 16 and 17, in an adult Bible class conference. The program opens with a song service Saturday morning at 9:45 o'clock. The rapid firing guns, as well as the heavy artillery, have been selected with the greatest care. This organized adult Bible class conference is probably the most important movement ever inaugurated in the interests of the adult Bible classes of the Methodist Church in Southern California.

Mobilizing 10,000 men in the Billy Sunday campaign is the cry of the leaders. It is possible for the adult classes of the Methodist churches alone to capture that many men for the King with every man on his job fishing for men. The campaign for "trail hitters" is beginning to take form and find expression already in the life of our adult classes.

The leadership and program of the conference is under the direction of Hugh C. Gibson, conference superintendent of Sunday schools of the Southern California conference. The program as arranged covers in a practical way the working activities of the adult class. It will be a real school of information, thoroughly practical in its scope of instruction. A hearty welcome is extended to all adult classes.

The Personnel of the Convention.

The Rev. George G. Dowe, organizer of men's adult classes in the Billy Sunday campaign, will deliver three addresses. He is a man of wide experience, who tells the adult Bible classes how to do things that influence community life. He will outline in a definite way a practical program for a year's work.

John Cobb Worley will bring to the conference a wealth of missionary information and present ways of making the work grip the church in missionary life.

Albert J. Saunders, "A Trail Hitter" from the Billy Sunday ranks, will be there. He will make things lively. He has a most remarkable message which has grown out of a real but hard experience, gathered as he has passed along life's highway.

Many other notable local workers will have place in the program. Each person has been selected because of the practical work he has done or accomplished in his own local field of service.

Flags! Flags! Flags!

Two large United States flags (4x6 feet in size, mounted on staff with gold spear head, cord and tassel) will be given to adult Bible classes as follows:

1. One to the adult Bible class in Los Angeles city, which has present at roll call Saturday, June 16, at 1:45 o'clock the largest per cent. of its enrollment. Percentage to be based on enrollment your class record showed June 3, 1917.

2. One to the adult Bible class outside Los Angeles city, which has present at roll call Saturday, June 16, at 1:45 o'clock the largest per cent. of its enrollment. Percentage to be based on enrollment your class record showed June 3, 1917.

Note: Classes will not enter contest unless the membership is 16 years old or upward. Three persons will act as committee on contest and awarding of flags.

COURTESY OF CLUB MEMBERS.

It is with profound pleasure the management of The Evening News recognizes the courtesy of club members toward this paper by liberally placing orders for job printing with The News as a work of appreciation for publicity favors.

Of course it is true that at times heads of committees do not carry out the desires of members and an unfairness caused largely on account of ignorance predominates.

The management of The News is always ready to co-operate with all clubs and organizations desiring publicity, but in instances where real brazen acts on the part of committees indicate a spirit of unfairness The Evening News reserves the right to close its columns to all publicity unless that publicity is paid for at regular advertising rates.

There is a common sense business judgment that should govern the actions of all persons when doing business one with another, and it is that common sense business judgment the management of The Evening News suggests be followed by club members who wish publicity matter without charge. Co-operation, that is all.

THE NEINO CASE

DETECTIVE QUESTIONS WIT-NESSES—PRISONER UP FOR IDENTIFICATION.

Mrs. S. M. Neino, who was attacked by an unknown person at her home at 756 South Pacific avenue, Glendale, Thursday forenoon, June 7, is at the Glendale Sanitarium and continues to be in a precarious condition. The baby born to her last Saturday morning died as did also the 2-year-old son who received a severe blow on the head at the time the assault was made on the mother. Two days after the crime was committed a man by the name of Charles McCartney was arrested on suspicion and is held in the County Jail awaiting further evidence.

McCartney was brought to Glendale Wednesday forenoon for the purpose of allowing the people residing in the Neino neighborhood to have an opportunity to see him and identify him as the man who was in that section of Glendale last Thursday morning. The questioning was done by Expert Detective Finlayson of the District Attorney's office. There were present Shiro Fujika, secretary of the Japanese association of Los Angeles, and Tanagoshia, the interpreter, and also Attorney Albert D. Pearce, whose law firm of Evans, Abbott and Pearce is representing the Japanese association.

Mrs. Sato, who resides near the Neino residence, identified McCartney as the man who called at her home the morning the crime was committed.

If Mrs. Neino recovers sufficiently to be able to testify in the case she will of course know as soon as she casts her eye upon the prisoner if he is the man who so brutally abused her.

McCartney is an ex-convict and bears a bad record.

Chief G. Herald is taking an active part in collecting evidence in the case.

DEATH OF MATTIE FREEMAN.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Freeman, 1517 Sycamore avenue, is darkened today by the shadow of death, their young daughter, Miss Mattie L. Freeman, having passed from this life at 1 o'clock this morning after an illness of only a few months. Mattie was born in Texas but had lived in Glendale for the past eight years and was greatly beloved by her young friends and schoolmates. On January 16 she celebrated her fifteenth birthday and had she been permitted to continue with her school work would have graduated from the intermediate school this month. Ill health compelled her to give up her school work in March.

Besides the sorrowing parents five brothers and one sister mourn her death, they being Hanford Freeman of Sunland, Roy Freeman of Los Angeles, Mrs. Pollock of Burbank, Hugh, Sloan and Wade Freeman of Glendale.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at the First Baptist Church, of which she was a member, her pastor, Rev. Vernon H. Cowart, officiating, the Scovren-Letton-Frey Undertaking Company in charge. Interment in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER.

Miss Barbara Askeland, who is soon to become the bride of Herbert Matthiesen, was the honored guest at a surprise miscellaneous shower given Monday evening by Miss Alice Watson and Mrs. Turner at their home on Cedar street. Miss Askeland was invited to the Watson home and was surprised to find about seventeen of the ladies of the Good Templars lodge assembled there when she arrived. A very happy evening was spent and Miss Askeland was the recipient of a large basket full of pretty and useful gifts, which she was asked to unwrap and display. Punch and cake were served and the guests departed after extending good wishes to the bride-to-be and thanks to their hostesses for a pleasant evening.

PATRIOTIC LUNCHEON.

Mrs. Charles B. Guthrie of 523 West Ninth street, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Arthur D. Cross, entertained a number of friends at a very pretty luncheon Friday. The beautifully appointed luncheon table was centered with a large bowl of flowers in the national colors. Covers were laid for Mesdames R. M. Brown, Valentine Hollister, T. C. Young, Oliver Clark, Herman Paine, Warren Roberts, Walter Stamps, John Robert White, Jr., Charles Wooster Grist and Mrs. Leo White of Los Angeles. Following the delicious luncheon the afternoon was spent in a social way.

THE IVANHOE BRIDGE

How very familiar the above heading is to the citizens of Glendale. Long has there been a talk about the extension of Brand Boulevard from Tropic to Los Angeles River, and then for a well-built boulevard to continue by way of Ivanhoe to Los Angeles and thus greatly shorten the auto road between Glendale and Los Angeles.

It is up to the county of Los Angeles and the city of Los Angeles to bear the expense of building the bridge across the river at a point near Ivanhoe. The board of supervisors and the city council will do anything within their power that is reasonable to please the people of this section of the San Fernando Valley, but the people must ask for what they want, and they must keep on asking until they get it.

It is the duty of everyone who favors the extension of the boulevard referred to to take an active part in bringing about the completion of the work.

TARDY IN AROUSING PUBLIC OPINION

It is indeed difficult to arouse people to a sense of their duty. Lives must be sacrificed and vast amounts of property wasted before the general public will heed deserving suggestions.

A question prominently before the public at present is the one that asks that the proper officials and authorities provide for safety at railroad crossings. No marked attention is being given to these suggestions, notwithstanding hundreds of lives are being lost every year on account of unprotected railroad crossings.

Carelessness is attributed as the cause of most of the accidents. There is just as much sense to say that every death in a community is caused by carelessness. So long as locomotives and electric cars are allowed to pass over unprotected highways at a 60 mile per hour speed just so long will there be accidents and serious ones, too. Remove the cause and the accidents will cease.

BRINGING IT CLOSER HOME

Suppose San Pedro was bombarded from the Pacific and much damage was done.

Suppose an urgent call was sent for assistance and funds. Would you help?

Suppose, again, that damage was done right here in Glendale by aero bombardment, earthquake or tornado and you were hurriedly importuned to give your time and money to help, would you say "there are so many calls that I really can't do it just now"?

"Such things are not likely—here; the probabilities are . . . etc., etc. Have you ever thought or said this?

Change San Pedro for Dunkirk or Margate. Call Glendale, San Salvador or even Mattoon, Illinois, or any one of the recently tornado-swept middle western towns, and we would all be jumping at the chance to help somehow, somewhere.

The trouble lies in the complacency engendered by remoteness—the disinterestedness due to distance.

Wake up, Glendale. Show that you are Americans. "Do your bit."

"And what is my bit, any way?" Well, the least you can do is to join the A. R. C.—not the Army Reserve Corps, but the American Red Cross—and do it quickly, for the President wants a million new members and we need 641 (or less, for the number is always changing) more in Glendale, Tropic and Casa Verdugo to make the goal for Red Cross Week.

Call Mrs. R. E. Chase (Glendale 1 or Home 864) or drop in to Roberts & Echols' drug store and sign up. It will cost you one dollar and with your membership certificate you will have "the sweet satisfaction of having passed along a good thing."

CONSIDER THE TAX EXEMPT FEATURE

Liberty Bonds pay 3½ per cent. net—free of all Federal, State and Local taxes (except estate and inheritance taxes).

The importance of this tax exempt feature in Liberty Bonds is worthy of particular consideration.

The holder of all other forms of personal property or investment securities is liable for taxation. The combined tax rates throughout the country are said to average nearly 2½ per cent., when taking into consideration all forms of taxation under Federal, State and Local authority.

That is, the holder of an ordinary $1,000 investment security might be subject to a tax of $25.00, more or less.

If he purchase a Liberty Bond, he receives the full 3½ per cent. interest without consideration for any taxes whatever. On the other hand, if he holds some form of taxable security, it must necessarily yield him an annual return of nearly 6 per cent. in order to permit him to pay all the taxes for which he is liable, so that his net income will produce 3½ per cent. Therefore, if an investor pays his taxes in full, he could better afford to hold a 3½ per cent. Liberty Bond than any taxable security yielding less than 6 per cent. interest per annum.

The Glendale Evening News should be delivered at your home by the carrier not later than 4:30 p. m. every day except Sunday, and usually much earlier than that time. Subscribers who have not received their paper at 4:30 o'clock, should notify the office by phone: Glendale 132, Home 2401.

SHORT TERM BONDS MEAN ECONOMY

Declaring that where bonds must be issued for local improvements the short term form is best for adoption, in ordinary cases, the Journal of the Tax Payer's Association of California refers to a proposed bond issue at Clovis, California, as follows:

"In view of the general lack of uniformity with reference to plans of issues and the laxity of the laws in this respect, it is encouraging to encounter a business-like proposal such as is found in the plan of an issue contemplated for the Clovis High School, in Fresno county. The Clovis plan is to issue a total of $60,000 in bonds, presumably five per cent, to be paid off at the rate of $6,000 per year during a ten year period. At five per cent. interest, this issue will cost $60,000 for principal and $16,500 for interest: a total of $76,500. Had the bonds been issued for the maximum forty-year term permitted by law, and one-fortieth retired each year, the interest would have amounted to $61,500, and the issue would have cost the tax payers $121,500 instead of $76,500.

"The short term serial bond is better than any other kind. It is cheaper; and no sinking funds are liable to loss. Moreover, a ten year issue, such as the Clovis issue, will in all probability be entirely paid off before the usefulness of the building or other improvement has become materially impaired.

"If bonds must be issued the short term serial illustrated by the Clovis proposal is certainly better than the long term serial; and it is infinitely better than any serial which is to be paid off in less than equal annual installments. Theoretically, the increased cost of postponing payment of the larger part of the principal of a bond issue until the latter part of the term will be offset by an increase in wealth and taxable value. Practically, however, as values increase on the assessment rolls more and new bonds are issued without any attempt to make the rate of increase in bonded debt correspond, even approximately, with the rate of increase in wealth and taxable value. It is impossible, too, to foresee the rate of increase in wealth or taxable value."

COMMENDABLE SPIRIT OF THE JAPANESE

No little favorable comment has been caused by the action of thirty-five members of the Japanese Association who joined the Red Cross chapter at one time. If relations between Americans and Japanese were as fine in all communities as they are in Sierra Madre there would never be any talk of trouble between the two races. Many times in the past the members of the Japanese Association have shown their desire to be of service to the community. They have contributed funds, exhibits and labor to the flower festivals. They made a liberal contribution to the band fund. On many occasions they have shown a fine public spirit and good taste as well, never rendering themselves liable to criticism for intrusion. In Japan the national Red Cross organization has far surpassed the American organization proportionately in membership and funds. The Sierra Madre Japanese are thus participating in a world movement in which their own nation is among the leaders.—Sierra Madre News.

MINNESOTA SLACKERS

WEST GLENDALE W.C.T.U.

One could scarcely find a more lovely spot than Mrs. Hyatt's vine covered pergola and shady lawn, bordered on every side by petunias and ivy geraniums. It was here that the first open air meeting of the season was held on Tuesday afternoon. The success of this meeting was due in a large measure to the ability and energy of Mrs. Pierson Hanning, our new flower mission superintendent, who was leader on this occasion. The devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. E. M. Cooke, evangelistic superintendent. Mrs. Hanning then explained that we were celebrating the birthday of Miss Jennie Cassidy, who had the honor of being the first flower mission secretary, and told something of the wonderful work that has grown from the small beginning of this poor crippled girl, who wanted to do something for others. Five little girls, with wreaths on their heads, favored the company with a song entitled "Beautiful Flowers." Mrs. Gaylord, county organizer, was an honored guest, and kindly assisted in the program. She told how the flower mission department covers an immense field, including relief work of every description. Mrs. Pierce read an article entitled "The Mission of the Blossom," and the five little girls sang again. A reading by Mrs. Waltz was next on the program, followed by "A Newsboy Story," told by Glenn Moore. Other items on the program were a recitation by Leslie Tronsier, "Buttercup." An appropriate reading by Miss Francis Smith, "Why a Flower Mission;" vocal solo, Mrs. Tronsier; reading, Mrs. Hyatt; recitations, Miss Velma Pierce, and Miss Genevieve Mulligan. A vote of thanks was tendered to all these young people who so kindly assisted in the program. In the closing song we were urged to "Work, for the Night is Coming," after which Mrs. Hyatt served one of her famous health drinks, with macaroons and wafers. Even this did not entirely end the program. The flowers which Mrs. Hanning had asked to be brought were made into small bouquets, tied with white ribbon and a W.C.T.U. card attached. These were taken to the Glendale Sanitarium, where they were most highly appreciated. Some had already been taken to the Mission Hospital, making sixty-eight sick persons, who received this little grain of cheer by being personally remembered.

VALUE OF CHURCH PROPERTY IN CALIFORNIA.

We have reports covering 2370 church buildings valued at $22,388,668 and 868 parsonages valued at $1,495,433. It has been impossible to get complete figures on property. Sixteen hundred churches report debts aggregating $3,237,268. However, the total value of church property is very inadequately represented by the value of churches and parsonages. All denominations have a great many social service institutions connected with them, such as hospitals, orphanages, schools and colleges and recreation centers. The Methodist Episcopal Church alone has over $2,500,000 invested in such institutions in California. The expression of religion in terms of service to the community is an important part of the work of the church. It is somewhat of an anomaly, in view of the separation of the church and State, that the social service institutions of the church should be taxed by the State, while the buildings used exclusively for religious worship are exempt from taxation.

TOO MANY BIRTHDAYS.

"It certainly does cheer a man up to have some friend remark that he looks ten years younger."

"True. But somehow, the same sort of compliment paid to a woman doesn't please her."

"Oh, that's easily understood. You have to add ten years to your age before you can take ten years off."

HER TURN.

"What would you do if I turned you down?" she asked shyly, as they sat on the parlor sofa.

The young man looked straight ahead, but said nothing. After a few moments of silence she nudged him with her elbow and said: "Didn't you hear my question?"

He looked around apprehensively. "I beg your pardon," he replied. "I thought you were addressing the gas."—St. Louis Republic.

WHAT IS THE LIBERTY BOND?

The Liberty Bond is an engraved certificate given by the United States to the purchaser, and stating that on June 15, 1947, the United States government will pay in gold to the holder, the face amount of the certificate ($50, $100, $1000, etc.) and every year, until redeemed or paid, will pay the holder 3½ per cent. interest.

The Liberty Bond is a receipt from the United States government to the holder for the amount of his loan, just like a receipt from a savings bank.

The Liberty Bond can be sold at any time through a bank or any investment house.

The Liberty Bond can be taken to any bank and money borrowed on it up to 80 per cent. or 90 per cent. of the face amount.

The Liberty Bond, if in coupon form, is payable to bearer and in many transactions can be used instead of cash.

BIG METHODIST RALLY TONIGHT

This evening at 7:45 at the new Methodist Church, Third and Kenwood streets, there will be a great praise meeting, one feature of the dedication week services. The Methodist pastors of Glendale, Casa Verdugo and Tropic will assist the pastor, Rev. B. D. Snudden, in this service. Everyone welcome.

HOPES FOR THE FUTURE.

The latest dance step is entitled
"the toddle," which indicates that the terpsichorean originators have turned from the zoo to the nursery for ideas. This sort of revives the waning hope that in time dancing may be restored to some of the aspects of a human and grown-up pastime.—Providence Journal.

In automobile accidents 53 per cent. of the injuries are due to flying glass. Of this per cent. 35 per cent. leave indelible scars; 15 per cent. cause serious mutilation, and 2 per cent. are fatal.

Personals

The Odd Fellows will put on third degree work at their hall at the corner of Third street and Isabel Thursday evening.

Verne Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs.
H. A. Wilson, has been confined to his home for several days with a severe attack of the measles.

Mrs. Edward L. Payne of Antelope
Valley has been the guest of Mrs.
Oliver O. Clark. Her many friends here have been pleased to meet her again.

Mrs. Rupert Dell was the hostess
Monday at a regular weekly meeting of the British Ambulance Society,
given at their headquarters on West Broadway.

As this is the last week of session at the high school the teachers of the science and art departments are planning on giving the annual exhibit of the work done by their departments tomorrow (Thursday), and Friday. Exhibitions will be on display of the art department, the mechanical arts department, the science department, the commercial department and the agricultural department. The public is cordially invited to attend the exhibit.

Samuel Parker, a frequent visitor to The News Office until prevented by illness some months ago made his first visit to this office, since his illness, yesterday. He was unsupported except by a cane which he seemed to carry more for effect than for use,
it being a very handsome one, inlaid
with silver in intricate and beautiful designs. Walking sticks are fashionable now with the young men and since Mr. Parker is only 87 it is perfectly in place for him to carry one even if he doesn't need it.

Clotworthy.

o'clock tomorrow and the doors will

SHIELDS' STATEMENT.

Not all people are dirty because they want to be. Many are uncleanly because they have no chance to be otherwise.

That is what Superintendent of Schools Albert Shields has to say about the Los Angeles neighborhood schools in the quarter where the poor live.

"Many homes in these districts are so overcrowded and so lacking in bathing facilities the children cannot keep clean. In most of them the parents are ignorant of the necessity and pleasure of cleanliness and the children have little chance of learning that lesson anywhere but in the school. Ten of these neighborhood schools have bathrooms and give an average of 187 baths a week."

Many a triumph has been won by persisting long weeks after defeat seemed already to have come.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Much talk has been going around school the last few days whether the present form of student body government will remain the same for next year or whether it will be changed to another form. As the government of the school now stands Mr. Moyses, the principal of the school, is the governor, everything having first to pass his judgment before becoming a law. The legislative branch of the government consists of the senate and the house of representatives. The senate is composed of nine members, five elected by the students and four appointed by the governor. The house of representatives is made up of three members from each of the eight classes, making a total of twenty-four members. The president of the student body is chairman of this body of legislators. The judicial department of the government is vested in the executive board, of which the vice-president of the student body acts as judge. There are seven members on the executive board.

The present student body officers are: President, Sam Durand; vice-president, William Balthis; secretary,
Florence Heacock, and treasurer, Alleen Freeman. The members of the senate are Marjorie Imler, Lehman Crandall, Walter Beach, Mona Butler
and Miller Fishel, the other members not yet being appointed by Mr. Moyses.
Those on the executive board are Maxwell Sheriger, Dan Hagin, Olin
Wilson, Evangeline Hunchberger,
Helen Hardin, Ed Seay and Howard McGillis. The members of the house of representatives are J. McLennan, S. Durand, E. Seay, C. Stone, H. Williams, B. Martin, H. Durand, D. Burlingham, W. Rees, H. Jenkins, S.
Brooks, H. Woods, C. Lyon, D. Bryant, R. Carmack, M. Ray, F. Balthis, J. Jenkins, C. Kenworthy, H. Barnes,
L. Griswold, T. Lyons, B. Wright and
M. Alvord.

As today is the last regular school day of the year all of the classes are taking a general review of their year's work in preparation for the final half-day examinations. These exams begin tomorrow morning and continue until Tuesday afternoon, when all of the eight period classes of the day will have met for a half day. As the seniors do not have to attend school at all next week all of their examinations, which would normally take place Monday and Tuesday, are being taken by them today.

ADDRESS TO THE FLAG.

By SAMUEL PARKER.

Oh, banner beautiful and fair,
None other can with thee compare.
Whence cometh thy mysterious power,

So potent in each trying hour?
At thy command they marched away,
Those armies anxious for the fray;
The hills to lurid flame awoke,
The valleys dark and dense with smoke.
What hosts were slain that men might be
At awful cost—exalted, free?

Oh, banner, emblem fair, of peace,
Proclaim that savage war shall cease.
All powerful on the battlefield,
To quiet, mild conditions yield.
From humblest school to highest grade,
Be thy omnipotence displayed;
'Till every child the country o'er Shall enter free on the ground floor.
With equal openings to advance,
'Till none shall say, "I had no chance."

Thy power exert 'till there shall be
In realm of thought great liberty;
Nor for a moment tolerate The slightest join of church and state.
Float thou from spire and minaret,
Nor let a devotee forget That any general favor he Demands he must accord to me.
Thy broad folds never fold until Each one shall worship as he will.

Oh, banner make thy power home
At pinnacle of lofty dome,
Of capital at Washington
And order legislation done.
In house and senate hall,
Just, equal and exact to all.
Hang thou around the court supreme
And forcefully enforce the theme
That high and humble, rich and poor,
To justice there can find the door.

Oh, flag of power, that power is due To men that gave their lives for you.
You led them where in ranks they fell,
Mown down by shrieking shot and shell.
They followed 'till they conquered
peace,
And bade the noise of battle cease.
A fading remnant loves you yet,
And you will not their love forget.
For you what service more complete
Than form a soldier's winding sheet.

June 14, 1917, Glendale, Cal.

has a law office in Los Angeles, was detained in Glendale Wednesday forenoon on account of the testimony

case.

STATE NEWS

SENATORS AND ASSEMBLYMEN CANNOT HOLD TWO STATE POSITIONS.

SACRAMENTO, June 13.—The death knell of Senators or Assemblymen holding two State positions was sounded in an opinion given the State Board of Control by Atty.-Gen.
Webb in the case of Assemblyman Lee Behbart of Sacramento, who attempted to collect claims against the State for services as attorney for the State Pharmacy Board. Assemblyman Gebhart presented two claims, one for $57.50 and another for $100 to the Board of Control for prosecuting drug cases in February and April. The board held up the claims on the grounds that they were illegal and asked Webb for an opinion.
In his opinion Webb declares that the claims are illegal and must not be paid as the State law provides that no members of the Assembly shall, during the term for which he shall have been elected, hold or accept any employment under the State.

SACRAMENTO, June 13.—California will, on July 1, owe $1,068,740, principal and interest, on bonds heretofore issued, according to figures prepared by State Treasurer Friend W. Richardson. The amounts due on the various bond issues are as follows: San Francisco building, principal $20,000, interest $19,600;
university building, interest $40,500;
State highway, principal $400,000,
interest $360,000; San Francisco
Harbor, 1911, interest $180,000;
San Francisco Harbor, 1915, interest
$20,000; San Francisco sea wall, interest $16,140; India Basin, interest $12,500. The State is authorized to issue $3,900,000 for the purpose of building additional capitol buildings at Sacramento and $15,- 000,000 for highways. The highway bonds cannot be sold until July 3 and $5,000,000 probably will be sold about August 1.

SACRAMENTO, June 13.—San Diego was chosen as the city for the 1918 convention of the M. W. Grand Lodge F. and A. M., colored, when the three-day convention adjourned here. The members also voted to subscribe to the Liberty Bonds. T. A.
Harris of Los Angeles was elected grand master.

SACRAMENTO, June 13.—Fourteen and a half miles of highway between El Cajon and Alpine, San Diego county, will be constructed by the State Highway Commission. The advisory board of the commission adopted a resolution calling for the construction of this link of highway.
Contracts also were awarded by the board for the construction of highways in Tulare, Shasta, Ventura and Santa Barbara counties.

SACRAMENTO, June 13.—Ten million hogs could be raised in the United States every year with the grain and cereals used in making distilled liquors and beers, according to Prof. M. E. Jaffa, consulting nutrition expert of the State Board of Health. The total amount of grain used for the manufacture of alcohol is 2,183,775,852 pounds annually, says Prof. Jaffa.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—That nothing may interfere with the Red Cross campaign during the week from June 18 to June 25 to raise $100,000,000 for war relief, the Red Cross War Council has sent an announcement to the San Francisco
Red Cross asking that no Red Cross benefit, entertainment or other functions for the benefit of the Red Cross funds be given until after June 25.
The National War Council of the Red Cross has assigned $15,000,000
as the fund to be raised west of the Mississippi and Lyman L. Pierce, western executive secretary, has organized the campaign so that every city and town of the West will "do its bit."

THE WORLD ON TRIAL.

Judgment is about to be passed upon the entire human race, the vast population of the world being now on trial before the Supreme Court of the universe, according to Pastor G.
B. Thompson of Washington, D. C., secretary of the North American Division Conference of the Seventh-day Adventists, who made this statement before a large audience Sunday night during his discourse at the annual camp meeting of the Adventists at Healdsburg.
"No more solemn announcement could fall upon human ears than that contained in Revelation 14:70. 'Fear God, and give glory to Him; for the hour of His judgment is come; and worship Him that made heaven, and earth and the sea and the fountains of waters,' said the speaker. Tonight the Judge sits upon His throne.
The ledger of heaven has been opened; testimony is being presented, and every man's case will be decided for eternal life or eternal death.
This court has been in session since 1844.
"Does someone say, 'It is nobody's business what I do?' Ecclesiastes 12:13, 14 says: 'Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God and keep His commandments:
for this is the whole duty of man.
For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil.' This scripture gives the hypo-critic no consolation. But noble souls, many of whom have been suffering
in silence, who have made Jesus Christ their refuge, will not lose their reward. God is searching the secret recesses of men's souls. His judgment is just and perfect.
"I say unto you, that every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment," says Christ in Matthew 24:36. All the cheap talk, all the jokes, all the gossip, tattling and scandal mongering is being weighed in the judgment, for 'by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned.' O, that we could realize the responsibility of speech.
"Like a great coin tester, that rejects every gold piece that is counterfeit or light weight, the court of heaven will cast aside every individual who does not meet the standard,
the law of God. All hatred, jealousy, evil surmising, covetousness, selfishness and its fruits will, if cherished in the heart, prevent the salvation of the soul, and rob the individual of eternal life.
"In that court you may have an advocate, a lawyer. Christ has, with His own blood, bought the right to plead in your behalf. He offers to take your case, if you will place it in His hands. He has made provision so that you may go to Him in prayer and lay your case before Him. He is a lawyer who never has lost a case.
He pleads most eloquently in behalf of His clients.
"We have a mighty Saviour, and a mighty gospel. The gospel does not bring the law of God down to meet men's faulty lives, but uplifts men until their lives meet the requirements of the law, so that in the judgment they may stand justified and accepted; being perfect through Christ. But remember, my friends, that to those who do not yield allegiance to the great King of the universe, the day of reckoning comes.

The execution of God's judgment is about to be accomplished upon the wicked."

Speaking in the large canvas pavillion yesterday morning, Pastor W.
E. Andrews, president of the Pacific Union Conference, said it was just seventy years from the time the heavenly investigative judgment began in the fall of 1844 until the great war broke out in 1914. He then read Psalm 90:10, 'The days of our years are three-score years and ten; (seventy,) and if by reason of strength they be four-score years, yet is their strength labor and sorrow."
"We have entered the time of labor and sorrow for this old world,"
he said. "Christ told us that war, famines, pestilences and earthquakes in diverse places are but the 'beginning of sorrows.' They are forerunners of mighty and rapid changes."

SAVE GRAIN BY CAREFUL HARVESTING.

Conservation of grain through efficient methods of harvesting, including stacking wherever labor conditions permit, is recommended to farmers by Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Carl Vrooman, in a statement issued today.

"The nation needs every head of grain that can be raised this summer," declared Mr. Vrooman. "Effort must be made to save every ounce of wheat, oats and rye at the harvest. Each year hundreds, if not thousands, of bushels of grain are ruined in regions where midsummer rains occur, because it is allowed to remain on the ground, a prey to the weather. Keep in mind that a bushel of wheat will furnish bread for one person for about seventy-five days.

"Harvesting machinery should be adjusted so that there is as little loss as possible in cutting. Care should be taken also to harvest all grain cleanly in the corners, along the edges of the fields and in lodged spots.

"More than usual attention should be given to shocking in order that there may be as little waste as possible from exposure to the weather. If at all practicable, the grain should then be stacked as soon as it is cured in the shock. Stacks of bound or headed grain should be built carefully so that they will shed water. Every blade saved equals a blade produced.

"In threshing, special attention should be given to the adjustment of the concaves and of separating machinery, to make sure that none of the grain is lost with the straw and chaff."

LUMBER FOR CANTONMENTS.

The Committee on Lumber, Advisory Commission of the Council of National Defense, has issued lists and specifications of lumber wanted for the construction of temporary barracks and training camps. Copies of this list may be obtained from the District Forester, 114 Sansome street, San Francisco. The schedules are arranged on the basis of the average requirements to house on division of infantry, and the committee states that proposals may be submitted for any quantity of lumber not less than 200,000 feet b.m., but that the exigencies of meeting government requirements promptly will ordinarily make it impossible to place orders for less than 500,000 feet b.m. Manufacturers and dealers are urged to submit offers in groups when necessary. It is expected that prices quoted the government will hold for at least sixty days. The statement declares that aggregate needs of the government, which are to be widely distributed, will create no abnormal demand upon the lumber industry, and that there is an opportunity for lumbermen to afford patriotic service in making their stocks and outputs available for public emergency requirements at moderate prices.

California mills will be called upon for western white pine, redwood, incense cedar, hemlock, white fir and Douglas fir, in all the usual grades and sizes.

MONEY NOT TIED UP.

There seems to be an idea held by some that money invested in a Liberty Loan Bond is going to be tied up for fifteen or thirty years. This belief is not warranted. Probably no property in the world outside of actual money or currency will have a wider and more ready and constant cash market than the Liberty Loan Bond.

There will be a constant demand made for them from many sources. They are good security for loans from the Federal Reserve banks; courts have decided that they are legal and proper investments for trust funds; they are legal investments for insurance companies and other corporations whose investments are supervised and regulated by law; their international character (being issued for an international purpose and guaranteed in part by our European Allies), gives them an international status and market. They will be sought for in India, in Egypt, Japan and Russia, England and France, Italy and Australia, and in fact wherever any government bond has a market.

They have been truly called the premier security of the world.

THE $100 BOND.

It has been carefully estimated that the proceeds of one $100 Liberty Loan Bond will fully clothe, arm and equip one American soldier. Each purchaser of a Liberty Loan Bond for $100 may feel that his or her money is doing its individual part in the arming and equipping of one of our country's soldiers. To some who wish that they could actively serve their country in the field but who have been denied this privilege this gives a specific, tangible nature to an investment in a Liberty Loan Bond.

ONE WEEK WITH THE AMERICAN FLYING MEN ON FRENCH FRONT.

PARIS, May 23 (By mail.)—Here, for the benefit of the ten thousand young Americans who are being enlisted in Uncle Sam's new airplane army over in the States, is the record for one week in May of the American fighting fliers now at the French front with the Lafayette Escadrille:

Monday—General of Blank Army calls at camp and congratulates the group of aerial combat to which the Lafayette Escadrille belongs for protection of his lines during the recent offensive northeast of —. No enemy planes crossed the line. Escadrille attacked two balloons and a number of enemy machines. Walter Lovell, Concord, Mass., and Harold Willis, Boston, attacked two enemy machines deep in enemy lines. Entire patrol led by Capt. Thénard (French officer in command of Escadrille,) forced a German patrol of six machines back into their lines. Robert Rockwell, Cincinnati, attacked German machine from rear and was attacked in turn. The Hun succeeded in riddling Rockwell's lower wing spars on both sides, wing tip, control rods and undercarriage before Rockwell dove out of range.

Tuesday—Lovell attacked Hun biplane early in the morning along Oise and drove same down in enemy lines. Willis Haviland, Minneapolis, Lieut. DeLaage (French officer, second in command of Escadrille,) and Willis attacked by Hun patrol of superior numbers and height but eluded same on account of superior speed. W. E. Dugan, Rochester, N. Y., protected a photographic raid deep in the enemy lines.

Wednesday—American patrol made sortie under command of Lieut. DeLaage, sweeping a front of forty miles deep into enemy territory, but no Hun machines sighted except in extreme distance. Escadrille complimented by gift to Raoul Lufbery, New York City, of annual gold medal by Aero Club of France, last year won by Navarre. Lufbery is an "Ace," his record being nine enemy machines officially brought down. The only other American "Ace" is Lieut. Thaw.

Thursday—Lieut. DeLaage led Escadrille on aerial reconnaissance. E. C. Parsons, Springfield, Mass., and Willis attack German machine at altitude of only 600 metres in enemy lines and force him to ground level. He probably got home. Enemy shells made both American machines do some fancy dodging. Afternoon found sky vacated by enemy but enemy guns made up by heavy shelling. Steven Bigelow, Boston, missed a shell by a very few feet at an altitude of more than 13,000 feet.

Friday—Escadrille reinforced by J. A. Drexel, Philadelphia, and C. H. Dolan, Boston. Willis had luck to find only enemy airplane in the sky today. It was a large biplane regulating artillery fire over the British lines. Willis dove to the attack from above but the German saw him and hastened homeward, dropping smoke signals for his artillery to get busy. The artillery did so. Half an hour later enemy returned with a fast monoplane protecting him. Willis offered fight but enemies changed their minds but signalled to their artillery which gave the American flyer a very hot five minutes crossing the lines.

Saturday—Dudley Hill, Peekskill, N. Y., arrived from America to rejoin Escadrille despite fact that authorities granted him two months' sick leave in America following an operation for appendicitis in New York. He preferred to return to the front. Lovell, Parsons and Rockwell were sent in pursuit of three Huns who crossed French lines and chased ten miles back into enemy territory before giving up the pursuit.

Sunday—Entire Escadrille motored in morning to the grave of James MacConnell near the lines and planted flowers and placed flags. Passing French soldiers had already placed wreaths, a rude cross and remains of MacConnell's machine gun and plan on the grave.

Afternoon—Only one enemy machine was encountered by patrol. He took to his "heels" before he could be reached. Escadrille busied itself dropping 10,000 copies of President Wilson's proclamation deep in enemy territory from St. Quentin nearly to Rheims. Enemy gunners showed their pleasure at this procedure by vigorously shelling the Americans.

PORTLAND ROSE FESTIVAL.

PORTLAND, Or., June 13.—The annual Rose Festival will be formally opened tonight when President Wilson, at the White House in Washington, presses an electric button, turning on thousands of electric lights at the festival center in Portland, 4000 miles distant.

In keeping with the spirit of the times, the festival which closes Friday, will be in the form of a huge patriotic demonstration.

Civic, business and patriotic organizations from numerous northwestern cities are represented by marching clubs for the various parades.

In the Court of Patriotism, surrounded by a lavish display of roses, stands a large replica of the Statue of Liberty, made entirely of flowers.

A patriotic pageant, in which the growth of human liberty from the granting of the magna charta to the present will be symbolized, is but one of many interesting features of the festival.

POSTAGE ON PERIODICALS.

The big national magazines will pay a fair amount of postage under the new war revenue bill which passed the House May 23 and is now well on the road to completion. These profitable publications have been delivered throughout the American postal service at a loss to the government annually of about $100,000,000.

These magazines are like any other commodity, made to sell, and should pay their own way if transported by mail, the same as the farmer's products pay, by parcels post. Mail matter should pay as it goes, whether periodicals, letters or merchandise, in proportion to its weight and the distance carried.

The argument that these periodicals are educative and should, therefore, be privileged—transported at public expense—is impudent. From one-fourth to nine-tenths, in bulk, or weight, of these periodicals is advertising matter—nothing else. On an average two-thirds of their weight is paid advertising, much of it at rates aggregating hundreds of dollars per page per issue. Does any one pretend that this advertising matter should be transported at public expense, simply to enrich greedy publishers? The pretense is absurd.

The House might have provided that the meritorious reading matter of these magazines be carried through the mails at present nominal rates, had it thought wise to do so, but evidently it did not think this proportion to be great enough to make segregation worth while. And it was pretty nearly right, notwithstanding the great quantity of really meritorious matter carried by some publications. About two-thirds of the $100,000,000 annual loss to the mail service in carrying this class of matter is caused by transporting pure advertising. In some instances advertising—not dissemination of knowledge—is the sole purpose of circulating alleged magazines, "scientific" pamphlets and the like.

The kick made by the publishers in these cases is not made because of any hardship which a just postal rate may impose, but simply because they prefer the public, the whole public, which bears the postoffice deficiency bill, to continue to pay their postage charges, so that they may pocket the $100,000,000 deficit equivalent, as they too long have done.

The proposed postage charge for this class of matter, in the war revenue bill, is to be based upon weight and distance, as is correct—just as all other transportation charges are computed. A New York publication weighing one pound should not be transported and delivered by carrier in the remote sections of Alaska—by reindeer carrier, 500 miles from a postoffice—as cheaply as delivered with ten miles of the place of issue, yet this is the contention of these greedy publishers.

The fact is, not one of these bulky and highly specialized publications is read by one in one hundred of the masses of the people, yet under the present system the other ninety-nine must pay this postal deficit. Not one in 1000 of the masses ever see nine-tenths of these publications, yet they are asked to pay the postage bill for their transportation to the few who buy and read them. Is it fair that this vast majority who do not receive these publications should be taxed that a few may read them and a handful of publishers may become rich by printing them?

It is said that many of these fungus growth magazines would be forced to suspend if compelled to pay legitimate postal rates. What of it? Must the people pay the freight on a merchant's shipments to keep that merchant in business, or to guarantee him profits? The fact is that most every one of these magazines could be sold at a big profit at present prices, the publishers paying the full postal charge now proposed in the war revenue bill. The others have no legitimate ground of complaint.—Monrovia News.

HIGH SCHOOL HELP FOR HARVEST FIELDS.

SACRAMENTO, June 13.—Under the direction of the State Board of Education, a complete survey of all available high school help which can be utilized in harvesting forthcoming crops in this State, is now being rushed to completion. It is estimated that more than 25,000 high school boys can be utilized in their home communities in help out the farm labor situation.

According to a circular being sent out to all high school principals throughout the State, it is the intention of the State Council of Defense to urge the use of high school boys on farms only when other labor is not available.

Each high school principal is being furnished with blanks which will be distributed among high school students, and which, when filled in, will show whether applicants for farm work will be available for service in other than their home counties. Where high school students are taken away from home to work, it is proposed that high school teachers accompany them to look after their moral and physical welfare.

Broker Graynes—Lamb wants us to sell ten thousand bushels short for him. He's looking for a drop.

Partner—Um! How much can he afford to drop?

A NEW SEAPORT.

A new seaport recently built by the government on the east side of the island of Luzon will shorten the voyage to the Philippines from American ports by three to five days. Manila, the destination heretofore of all army transports and most of the commerce of the islands, lies on the west coast of Luzon, and while convenient for Spanish sailing eastward, it involves an unnecessary trip around the coast for American ships. The new port is located at a place called Hondagua, meaning "deep water," which is also the terminus of a new railroad from Manila, says Popular Mechanics. The improvements made by United States engineers have laid the foundations for a great modern port, from which passengers can reach Manila in a few hours by the new railroad, and the improved means of transportation will open up to commerce 200 or 300 miles of coast hitherto practically isolated and thousands of acres of rich agricultural lands, producing hemp and coconuts in profusion. The harbor at Hondagua is deep, extensive and almost landlocked by a large island lying across its mouth.

ANOTHER COSTLY MISTAKE.

War experts are now figuring that the Kaiser is not anxious to have the Stars and Stripes on the firing line. The reason advanced is that when the death lists start in this country the determination to wipe out his entire line, will become the sole object of about 100,000,000 more people and peace will be considered only along those lines. Just how the experts make this prediction agree with the guess that the German people sought war with America we leave to the experts to figure out. It is stated that the advisors of the Kaiser informed him that America, being unprepared, could not become a factor in the fighting, because the submarine and the armies of the crown prince would have England upon her knees before this country could get to the front. This being true the advent of America into the fray would not be serious, and would merely bring in the flesh pots from which the victors could replenish their waning fortunes. Present indications are that about the only way for William to avoid a real clash with the soldiers of the United States will be to retire beyond the Rhine and sue for peace before the boys can get into action.—Whittier News.

The above has the right ring to it. When the United States is caused to suffer a loss of men in war at the hands of the Germans the only conditions of peace then on the part of Americans will be to wipe out the entire German empire. Every able bodied man will be ready to wage war against Germany to the finish.

UPS AND DOWNS OF FLOUR.

When the Chicago board of trade stopped speculative trading in wheat for two days, the price of wheat tumbled spectacularly.

Thereupon the price of flour fell $2 a barrel.

There was just as much wheat in the country and just as much flour in the country before the drop as after it. In fact, there was more, because some of the available supply had been used up and exported in the meantime.

The Chicago board of trade unwittingly afforded a timely illustration of the prominent and iniquitous part that speculation plays in fleecing the nation. It isn't so much what the speculators get. The worst phase of this legitimized gambling is that every time a group of gamblers run up the prices they give everybody who controls any of the same commodity anywhere in the country an excuse for jerking up the price.

A food dealer who raises the price of all the food he holds in harmony with gambling institutions is as bad as gamblers. It is as absurd to boost flour in New York or New Orleans or San Francisco whenever the Chicago wheat quotation jumps as it would be for the population of those cities to don heavy overcoats every time word comes that it is cold in Chicago.

We want not only the elimination of gambling, but a square deal from middlemen and merchants. We want everybody, all the way down the line, to be content with a fair profit and stop scheming for speculative profits. And if they won't do it voluntarily, through decency and patriotism, there will be a fine job of work for the food dictator.—Riverside Press.

QUEEN OF ENGLAND SERVES SOUP.

LONDON, May 25 (By mail.)—While thousands of dirty-faced, ragged children screamed applause, and beery-faced, frowsy mothers roared a deeper tone, the Queen of England and the Princess Mary drove to North Lambeth to open a new public kitchen for the Food Controller. The Queen ladled out boiled rice with her own royal hands and the Princess collected the food tickets and speared them on the files until over 2000 meals had been served.

London's great extremes of riches and squalor were never shown in more decisive contrast.

The little vicar of the neighborhood church bent himself almost double and his face was red as the Mayor's scarlet robe when Queen Mary shook his hand and said "How do you do?" His little son of 3 years,

THE GREAT APPEAL.

During long hours of hunger and thirst, necessitated by treatment in the hospital, the author realized the sufferings of the poor refugees, thirsting and starving to death in the East. In the midst of this experience, the following lines were written: A priest from the courts of the Lord came down

The lonely wilderness way,
And lo, by the road, with bleeding wounds
A helpless traveler lay;
But the man of the temple, remembering not
That duty should be his guide,
With hastened step, shunning mercy's task
Passed by on the other side.

Then a Levite came, whose tribe, by the Lord
Was for service sanctified—
He saw, but, shrinking and afraid,
Sped by on the other side.

Then, mounted on a humble beast,
From an alien city came
A wayfarer despised—the world
Will never know his name—
He saw and pitied, and came to the aid
Of a woeful fellow man;—
Though an alien rude, a heart of love
Had this good Samaritan.

He stanchd the bleeding, soothed the pain,
Till the sufferer's moaning ceased.
To the saddle raised—with his arm sustained,
As he walked beside the beast—
To the inn conveyed—for the lodging paid
A denarius or two—
For a suffering fellow man did all
A traveler could do.

Prone on the earth, by war's red path
A dying nation lies—
Mother and maid and child, to hate
And lust a sacrifice.
Shall we of the church, or the world
With our ease
And our comforts satisfied,
To the groans of woe giving little heed,
Pass by on the other side?

I see the Lord enthroned, where the ways
Of the mighty future part—
Earth's millions are moving toward that throne,
There to be given apart;—
A voice speaks forth in tone sublime—
I know the voice is His
Who spoke on earth, but it echoes now
From the great eternities;—

"Come, all ye blessed, ye souls that yearn
To sorrowful fellow man;
Ye are my brethren—Christian, Jew
Or good Samaritan.
Amid earth's woes, in mercy's work
Ye lovingly have shared;
Enter with joy the realm of love
Which the Father hath prepared.

And ye, whose hard and heedless hearts
The appeals of woe denied,
Walk on to the end of the way ye chose;—
Pass by on the other side."

CHAS. C. TRACY.

The garbage of New York alone for a year would make a pile as tall as the Woolworth Building.
